Louisiana's Haunted Plantations Jill Pascoe
New Orleans has been called the most haunted city in America, and with good reason. But there are more ghosts in Louisiana than can be held in one city and the plantations of this state, with their luxurious buildings and centuries old trees, are the ideal resting ground for spectral inhabitants. In some places there are questions are the existence of ghosts. At Louisiana's plantations the question is how many?

In this collection of thirteen chilling tales you will explore ghosts along the River Road at some of Louisiana's best-known plantations, and also along the back bayous of the state. You will encounter the ghosts of the most haunted house in America, meet ladies in white and black who refuse to leave, learn of spectral children who continue to play, Civil War soldiers trapped where they died, pirates guarding buried treasure, and even the ghosts of homes that met a fiery end. These true tales will delight and frighten you during your unique journey through the bayou state.
